

So•lu•tion [sə'looʃən]

noun

centralized, metered gas to fuel
entire communities, anywhere

Steer your development away from the inefficient, carbon-heavy electric grid toward more sustainable development fueled by gas- and receive the tremendous marketing advantages of dual-fuels. HBH is the leader in community gas systems, serving developments of all sizes worldwide.

Our systems serve entire communities from a single, centralized underground propane tank. Not only is the LP Gas metered and billed just like natural gas, it is an EPA approved alternative green energy. Visit us at www.hbhsystems.com to learn how we can provide you with seamless and reliable gas service- any time, any place.
